

June 12th 1945.

To my knowledge I.G. Farben, its directors and officers fully approved the Nazi aggression against Poland, Czechoslovakia and France. I.G. profited considerably from these conquests.

I.G. Farben did not approve of the attack on Russia and the Hitler declaration of war against the United States because we were well aware of American power.

I.G. Farben, its directors and officers are therefore responsible and it is my belief that the Allied Powers must take adequate measures to so control Germany that these acts can not be repeated again.
